Introduction

Careers Education and Guidance is statutory from Year 7. At Eden School we are committed to providing outstanding CEIAG for all students. The school aims and ethos underpin the work of the department. Students are all able to achieve but can only fulfil their potential if they understand themselves, their abilities and the possibilities available to them.

Rational for CEIAG (Careers Education Information Advice and Guidance)

The Government's careers strategy 4, published on 4th December 2017, sets out a long-term plan to build a world class careers system that will help young people and adults choose the career that is right for them. This statutory guidance has been updated to expand on the aim set out in the strategy to make sure that all young people in secondary school get a programme of advice and guidance that is stable, structured and delivered by individuals with the right skills and experience

Introduction A young person's career is their pathway through learning and work. All young people need a planned programme of activities to help them make choices that are right for them and to be able to manage their careers throughout their lives. Schools have a statutory duty to provide careers education in Years 7-11 and to give students access to careers information and impartial advice and guidance.

Commitment Eden School is committed to providing a planned programme of careers education for all students in Years 7-11 along with impartial information, advice and guidance (IAG). Eden school endeavours to follow the statutory guidance for governing bodies, school leaders and school staff as outlined in the Careers Statutory Guidance of (Jan '18). The advice provided covers the full range of education and training options, including apprenticeships and technical routes.

Development This policy will be reviewed annually through discussions with the Head teacher, senior leadership team, careers lead, teaching staff and careers adviser.

Policy/links It supports and is underpinned by key school policies including those for teaching and learning, assessment, recording and reporting achievement, PSHE, work related learning and enterprise, equal opportunities and diversity, health and safety, gifted and talented, and special needs. It forms a significant part of the schools development of the Every Child matters agenda: makes a positive contribution and prepares for economic well-being.
